ABSTRACT

Home | Swiss Health Care Atlas \(versorgungsatlas.ch\)

Which medical services are used in Switzerland and to what extent? Are there significant regional differences in utilization? What developments can be seen over time? These are the questions addressed by the Swiss Atlas of Health Care. The atlas documents the provision of health care in Switzerland based on more than 100 indicators and shows where significant regional differences exist.

The atlas in its current form went live in April 2023. In January 2024, the first update was realized using the most recent data available. Reto Jörg and Jonathan Zufferey will present content, methods and visualizations used in the Atlas. They also provide insights into the relaunch project and the future of the Supply Atlas.

The presentation will be in French and English.

Recommandé par la Société Suisse des Spécialistes en prévention et santé publique (SPHD) pour la reconnaissance de la formation continue. Participer à la réunion WebEx
